

Experienced Senior Video Executive Joins iBAHN

Christopher Bracken Joins iBAHN as Chief Strategy Officer

Salt Lake City (May 21, 2008) – iBAHN, the only global provider of digital entertainment and Internet solutions for the hospitality and meeting industries, announced today that Christopher Bracken, has joined the company as Chief Strategy Officer. Bracken assumes the newly created position effective May 1, 2008, and will be based at iBAHN's Denver office.

"We are very excited to welcome an executive of Chris's experience and knowledge into this new key role at iBAHN," said David W. Garrison, iBAHN's chief executive officer. "Chris will focus on how we best meet customer needs and opportunities with convergence business models in an increasingly competitive global business environment."

Bracken enjoys successful financial, operations and strategy experience and joins iBAHN after seven years at Denver-based On Command Corporation. His roles include serving as vice president of corporate planning, international operations, and corporate development. Prior to On-Command, Bracken served in management positions at Avista Labs and Deloitte & Touche.

"I am excited and honored to join the iBAHN team, a company that is actively building on its superior service with exciting network based digital video offerings. I look forward to working with my talented colleagues to expand iBAHN's global reach and leverage further our capabilities in the hospitality industry."

Bracken earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in international relations from the University of Virginia, and a Master's of Business Administration degree from the Darden Graduate School of Business Administration, also at the University of Virginia.
